8 Tips for sight-reading a new piece of music

1. Scan the music looking for any tricky parts.
2. Figure out the key or hand position.
3. Find the intervals and patterns.
4. Check the meter (4/4; 3/4).
5. Tap out the rhythm before starting.
6. Start playing or singing with a slow tempo.
7. Keep your eyes looking ahead.
8. Keep going, even if you get something wrong.
